Hi Kristi,

Jason added me yesterday as Lead Counsel for his ongoing dispute with Bravo Fleet. However, he would also like to continue to retain your services as co-counsel.

I've already informed the magistrate of our intent to appeal the decision. I'd like to go over the case so far with you ASAP to see where exactly we stand. I've also sent you a message on Discord.

Hope all is well,

Charles

Hello! It seems we lost!

Jason added me as his Lead Counsel today, but would like to retain you as co-counsel.

Let's talk soon and get a game plan together for the appeal. I've already informed the magistrate of our intent to do so.

Anyway, nice to "meet" you. Lol

My email address is star.idf@gmail.com by the way.

As Jason has retained you as his lead counsel, I have recused myself from the appeals process in this case.

Charles Star 06/10/2020

Understood, and thank you for your work on behalf of Jason so far.

First, Jason is not waiving his right to a BF appointed Defender. Since you have recused yourself, would you be the one to select a replacement or would it be the Magistrate?

Second, please send me all documentation, proceedings, and correspondence about and/or related to the case that you possess or have access to. After I go through that, I'll probably have a few questions for you to make sure I understand everything.

Thank you!

There will be no replacement since you have been named as lead counsel, as far as I understand it, and since you are a member of BF. Any documentation you need can be supplied by the Magistrate, as he has everything I was privy to regarding this case.

Charles Star 06/10/2020

Understood.

What was your general defense strategy for the case?

dizzyg 06/10/2020

Any further communication should be directed to the BF Magistrate, who will respond to you at his earliest convenience.

To be clear, you are not going to provide me or your prior client with any information about the case or your work in regard to the case? Is that correct?
